ENGINEERS ARE STILL AT WORK

Adjusting Board May Not Get Through Before Wednesday.

RUMORED SALT LAKE LINES

CLAIMED THAT BONDS FOR THE MOFFAT ROAD ARE SOLD.

T IS probable that the work of the general board of adjusters of Oregon Short Line engineers will continue until the middle of next week. One of the men said last evening that the members did not expect to get through before Wednesday, and the sessions may continue even longer. A vast amount of work accumulates between meetings and the chaff has to be sifted from the wheat. The men have to weed out such matters as they believe are not of sufficient importance to present to the officials of the road.

No grievance is thrown aside without No grievance is thrown aside without being first thoroughly discussed and then voted on by the members of the board. Some of the questions which are finally dropped often take up the most time in the discussions, and in this way considerable time is consumed. No date has yet been made for the conference with the officials as the men cannot yet forstell exactly when they cannot yet foretell exactly when they will be able to finish their labors. The board yesterday was in session until late in the afternoon. Last evening the visiting members of the board went to the Theatre.

The Denver papers claim that the movements of the engineers tend to lend strength to the story that the Moffat line will go to the coast instead of having its terminal in Salt Lake. It is hardly probable, however, that an engineering corps would look for a coast outlet in Colorado or Wyoming unless they are looking for a prehistoric coast. The trip to Cheyenne might mean that there is some hope of the Burlington extension from that point, and the complicating alliances of the Burlington might account for the secrecy of any force of surveyors who are working in the interest of that are working in the interest of that

In Judge Stewart's court yesterday the sealed verdict which was returned by the jury in the case of Thomas Weinegar against the Consolidated Railway & Power company was opened, and it was found that the issues in the case had been decided in favor of the defendant.

Weinegar instituted suit against the company for the sum of $10,000, alleged to have been sustained in damages resulting from an accident which occurred on First North street while driving in a buggy. He was struck by a car and knocked to the street, sustaining injuries which he says are permanent in nature. He asked for that amount in damages. The sealed verdict was returned late Thursday night. And then there is something the matter with the hens. If they were men and women it might be said they were on a strike, but as animals are not supposed to do those things, the farmers and the grocers and the commission men are at a loss to know just what to call their almost absolute refusal to lay eggs.

A new rallroad automobile is being feasted by Superintendent Young in the Rio Grande yards. The machine is operated by gasoline and has many advantages over the old style of getting over the ground. It is claimed that it is faster, does not get out of order easily, is quickly understood by the men, and that they can cover twice as much trackage. If the present test is satisfactory, they will be put into general use on the road.

Richfield, Nov. 14.—Upon notification from Sheriff Bentley of Washington county, Sheriff Clark, after a week of lookout, apprehended and arrested a young man, Roy Felts, in Salina canyon. Felts is wanted in Washington county on a charge of grand larceny. It is claimed he stole a horse, saddle and $13 in money. He is now in jeil here awaiting the arrival of officers: from the south. A 2-year-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson of Glenwood gave its parents a good fright Tuesday by taking a drink from a bottle of laudanum. It was discovered in the act, and with prompt measures taken, no ill effects of the drug were noticeable.

A local physician who has been investigating the causes of the typhoid epidemicat Salina and Redmond has written a letter to the board of county commissioners in which he attributes the disease to the filth left in Salina canyon by the railroad graders and to a slaughter house in a very filthy condition near Salina, which, the physician concludes; gives spread to disease through files. The premises have been condemned, and it is suggested that the refuse in the canyon be destroyed by means of coal oil and fire.
